Firstly thank you for the gift and the opportunity to appraise this golfing aid.

Let me start by saying I don't play much golf these days so for me saying it has improved me in anyway might be an exaggeration of the truth, but I have found that swinging this in the garage has help loosen the old muscles with just a few swings.

I feel for me this is where I find the timing Improver is very useful and I feel this would beneficial for those who don't play regularly or are confined to an office more than they would like. The muscle stretching I got from just a few swings with a small weighted club was very enjoyable and having some feedback on where my swing position is to me also a benefit I got.

I would have liked one of these in my hay day on the rained out days in a hotel room.

Again I say that I can't really do justice to this well thought out training aid without playing regularly to see if it has help me.

I will continue to use it to keep this worn out body just a little more supple.

Thank you for asking for my opinion and the gift.

Regards,

Peter McWhinney
